Your Privacy

Everyone has rights about how their personal data is handled. During our activities, we will collect, store and process personal data about our service users, volunteers, partner organisations, suppliers and other third parties, and we recognise that the correct and lawful treatment of this data will maintain your confidence in us.

Your personal data is subject to certain legal safeguards specified in the Data Protection Act 2018 incorporating the UK GDPR (UK General Data Protection Regulations)

This policy sets out the basis on which we will process any personal data we collect from you or that is provided to us by yourself or other sources.

How do we collect personal information?

We collect personal information about you when you interact with us, for example when you e-mail us or volunteer for us.

What personal information do we collect?

Personal information we collect about you may include your name, postal address, email address and phone numbers. We do not collect "sensitive personal data".

How do we use personal information?

We use the personal information collected from you only in order to keep you informed about news, events and activities relating to our work

Beneficiary Data

The vast majority of our beneficiaries come through referrals (over 99%). In these cases we receive no personal data. Where we work with beneficiaries directly, permission is sought to hold their data for the purpose for which it is intended.

Do we provide information to other parties?

We will never sell your data to any third party nor will we share your details with other entities for marketing purposes.

The charity is only permitted to contact you if you give them specific consent. We might send you updates about news, events and fundraising activities.

Sometimes, we may need to share your information with a small number of trusted partners (e.g. service providers) but only for the purposes outlined above. Where we use third parties, we require them to adhere to appropriate controls to protect personal information.

Your Choices

You have a choice about whether or not you wish to receive information from us. If you wish to be removed from our mailing list please contact info@readingfamilyaid.org.

Gift Aid

Some donations you make will be eligible for Gift Aid which we claim on your behalf if you complete a gift aid donation form.

As part of this process Reading Family Aid is required to submit your details including your address to HMRC, and in asking us to make a Gift Aid claim you are giving us permission to use your personal details in this way.

Data Security

Reading Family Aid is committed to keeping your personal information safe and secure. We have processes and technology in place to maintain the security of all personal data from the point of collection to the point of destruction. We do not transfer your data outside the UK.

The accuracy of your information is important to us. If you notice that any of the information we hold is inaccurate please email us at info@readingfamilyaid.org.

Right to be Forgotten

Under Article 17 of the UK GDPR you have the right to have personal data erased. This is also known as the 'right to be forgotten'. Please contact us at info@readingfamilyaid.org and let us know what personal data you would like erased. You can make your request verbally or in writing.

Subject access requests

You have the right to request a copy of the information we hold about you. Before we are able to assist with your request, we need you to confirm your identity and what data you require. Please put this information in writing to us.

Complaints

In the first instance, you should contact us directly. Please refer to our complaints procedure on how to do this.

If you remain unhappy with our use of your personal data, you have the right to complain to the Information Commissioner's Office. We would encourage you to contact us in the first instance so we can attempt to resolve any concerns.

Photography and Videos

Volunteers are not permitted to take photographs of children participating in activities without the explicit consent of the responsible adult.

Photographs, videos and other media (e.g. audio) in which individuals can be identified can be seen as personal data in the eyes of the law, and must be taken, stored and used in line with data protection principles. This means that:

- They must only be used for the purpose they were taken for. So, if you took the photos to help your group to publicise its work and fundraise, you should only use them for this purpose.
- They must be suitable for the purpose they are taken for, and not excessive. So, for example, in order to publicise your group you probably don't need hundreds of photos of the same person, or photos of someone doing something which is nothing to do with your group.
- They must not be held longer than necessary. So, if your group dissolved and no longer needed publicity, you should no longer keep the photos.
- They must be destroyed if the people in them ask you to destroy them.
- They must be held, and disposed of, securely so that they don't end up in the hands of a third party.
